METHOD FOR MULTIPLE TRACK TIME LINE DISPLAY WITH DOCUMENT LINKS

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5   A computer software method for multiple track time line display with document links by accessing digital information, where the digital information includes an information track. The digital information is displayed by juxtaposing at least two views of the information track on a display. Each view of the information track is separately scrolled and a hotspot on the at least one information track

10   allows navigation by activating the hotspot, where the hotspot links to digital information related to the information track.